Crucially, she feels that she loses her identity as “Zora” and her former charmed childhood. Instead, she’s stamped as one example of a larger category, which comes with a loss of the privileges she had in Eatonville. By postponing a racial awareness until a move in her thirteenth year, Hurston seems to say that race is a function of ...

Author and anthropologist Zora Neale Hurston is best known today for her novel Their Eyes Were Watching God, published in 1937. A decade earlier she wrote "How It Feels to Be Colored Me"¹-- an essay that might be characterized as both a letter of introduction and a personal declaration of independence. 1.
